RAISING THE GAME

2024
COLLECTION

With new patterns from the likes of Pat Weiss, Jackie Mahon, Howard Croston & Luboš Roza, we've been busy when it comes to hunting down and tying up proven patterns for your perusal. With more than 100 new flies available, from Perdignons, Mayflies and Streamers, to Buggers, Dries and Jigs we're delighted with each and every one and hope you are too. We've bolstered our range of hugely popular and highly effective Croston Bung flies, brought over the best of our USA Perdignons, landed a load of killer Jigs from Luboš and, last but not least, introduced a wealth of Wets from Jackie. Elsewhere, building on the success of our new Fulling Mill tying materials we are planning to introduce plenty of new ranges through 2024. Check out the Fulling Mill blog to keep abreast of the latest product updates. We are particularly proud of our 100% Fulling Mill 'Made in UK', bespoke, purpose-built Dubbing Dispenser page 91, it's what you've been waiting for. So, whether you shop online, instore or at your local tackle shop, we trust you'll find the Fulling Mill 2024 collection to be of interest.

Aufbauend auf dem Erfolg unserer neuen Fulling Mill Bindematerialien planen wir die Einführung zahlreicher neuer Bindematerialien für 2024. LEADERS, CONNECTIONS & TIPPET MATERIAL

The Fulling Mill range of World Class V2 fluorocarbon is a firm favourite with our customers. Super strong and great value for money, this tippet is a must have work horse in your tackle bag. The World Class V2 joins our popular premium range of technical Masterclass tippets and tapered leaders providing anglers of all abilities with a full range of top quality, high performance products. For top quality at a fair price look no further than Fulling Mill.

FULLING MILL WORLD CLASS V2 FLUOROCARBON

The Fulling Mill World Class range has long been described as the UK's favourite fluorocarbon, regularly being awarded top marks in fly fishing magazine shoot-outs. When it comes to Stillwater and Salmon fishing, this really is your no frills, super strong and great value for money tippet material.

World Class is a standard diameter fluorocarbon, although not the thinnest leader on the market, it's definitely one of the most reliable with exceptional abrasion resistance and superior knot strength. Made of 100% fluorocarbon, it's slightly denser than water, allowing it to cut through the surface quickly where it's almost invisible.

If you're a stillwater, salmon or light saltwater angler where a pure workhorse is needed, this is definitely the tippet material for you.

TIPPET & LEADER MATERIAL

FULLING MILL MASTERCLASS FLUOROCARBON

Fulling Mill Masterclass fluorocarbon is a premium range of tippet favoured by many of the best technical competition anglers out there. By pairing premium grade Japanese fluorocarbon with 21st century German precision engineering we have created a super supple tippet material with real strength especially in finer diameters. Coupled with market leading density and a low refractory index (in laymen's terms this means it's as heavy as possible for its size and almost impossible to see in the water!) this is a specialist line for the discerning angler.

- Superb diameter vs. linear strength ratio
- Supple and easy to knot
- Conforms to EFTTA line charter
- Functional free spinning spool ideal for tippet holders

"The new masterclass fluorocarbon proved to be excellent and managed to catch a large number of wild trout in very short session.

I was particularly impressed with the strength of the material when bullying fish away from obstructions but also when faced with the inevitable issues of snagging the river bed and catching over-hanging trees!"

Simon Robinson

FULLING MILL MASTERCLASS COPOLYMER

When fish are high in the water feeding on emergers or dry flies, Co-polymer is certainly the tippet material to reach for. Co-polymer has a lower density rating compared to that of fluorocarbon, so it sinks at a slower rate allowing you to present your flies higher in the water column for longer.

As a rule of thumb, whether they fish rivers or lakes, many anglers tend to only use Co-polymer when dry fly fishing - it's extremely supple and allows your flies to drift freely on the water surface without too much surface tension, much like the real thing. However more recently, competitive anglers have shown the advantages of fishing nymphs and buzzers on a method called the 'Washing Line', where they want their flies to hang in the surface film throughout the whole retrieve.

If you fish shallow reservoirs where weed is an issue, or you want to present your flies in the most natural way possible as close as you can to the surface, Co-polymer is certainly worth a try.

FULLING MILL HOOKS

At Fulling Mill we love hooks. Steve Carew, our very own technical supremo, can get seriously geeky seriously quickly. With our considerable experience in the design and manufacture of high quality, high performance hooks we feel perfectly placed to bring you a complete range of both barbed and barbless varieties that can be used to tie just about any pattern. The majority of our hooks are manufactured by Hayabusa, a distinguished Japanese firm famed for its superior steel (think Samurai swords here) and state of the art manufacturing technology. These hooks catch a lot of fish and that's purely down to great design, fantastic tensile strength and extra sharp points. We honestly believe these hooks are the best you can buy. Fulling Mill hooks are supplied in small plastic boxes ideal for convenient storage.

Bead Sizing Advice and Bead Use Tips

- For each bead size, a range of hook sizes have been suggested, the most suitable size is in RED.
- This is just a guide, hook styles, shapes and wire gauges vary wildly, and there can be no hard and fast rules.
- Sproat and round bend hooks with a standard gape will not normally be able to take a bead size any bigger than the "most suitable" size.
- It is generally easier to oversize a bead on wide gape style hooks if this is required.
- Slotted beads will fit almost any size of hook, the only limiting factor is the size of the hook eye can be to small too stop the bead from slipping over it. If you want to oversize a hook with a slotted bead and your hook eye is too small, build a small dam of thread behind the eye to stop the bead from slipping over it.
- To quickly fix a bead to the hook, make a few turns of an appropriate sized lead (or lead substitute) wire on the hook shank, place a drop of superglue in between your turns of wire and the bead, and then quickly push the lead wire hard up against the bead. This will securely trap the bead up against the hook eye, ready for you start tying your fly.
